Obnoxious Weeds Act

Under Section 16 of the Obnoxious Weeds Act all threshing machines and bundle racks must be swept clear of seeds before moving from one farm to another. Mr. T. Hogan, Field Supervisor of the Department of Agriculture, who is at present in the district, states that this regulation must be carefully adhered to as strict enforcement of the act is being carried out.

Another Change

There must be some very great attraction on Railway Ave. these days when for three weeks straight now we have to announce a move of business from Osler St. to Railway Ave. The latest move is that of Drs. Clarke and Liesemer from their present location in the Leuzler Block to the rooms over the Royal Bank. The doctors announce that this location is better lighted than the former and they will still be in a central location.

Snow and Frost

Last Friday the weather turned very cold and some snow fell which did not last long though. There were also heavy frosts on the Friday and Saturday nights with rather disastrous results to garden stuffs. Wheat and barley cutting is nearly finished here but there is a large stand of oats, a great quantity of which are very green, that suffered to some extent from the frost. Cutting of oats, green or no, is now general. Threshing commenced in one or two places near this week but will not be general for another week or so. A flurry of snow fell this Wednesday night and weather conditions are very unsettled.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. J. Boorman wishes to express his sincere appreciation and thanks to the many people of the town and district for their expressions and words of sympathy during his recent bereavement. In particular for the flowers and fraternal sympathy from King Hiram Lodge No. 21, A. F. & A. M., St. Hilda's Chapter Order of the Eastern Star and the local Telephone staff.

AROUND THE TOWN

The School Fair held last Friday was not quite as successful this year as previously, partly owing to the cold and miserable weather on that day.

The Evangelical church are having a new steeple built to take the place of the old one which was badly damaged by lightning this summer.

Messrs. Arnold and Goldie Liesemer left on Wednesday morning for Edmonton where they will attend University during the coming term.

Prairie chicken season opens next Wednesday and there will be some more slaughtering although the chicken are not as plentiful in this district as they used to be.

Editor H. E. Osmond returned from a visit to his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Coffey, in Spokane, on Tuesday after a splendid trip. He reports a fine time and says that roses and flowers are blooming in profusion there and fruit to be had almost for the asking.

This question was as natural as Seymour's own, but the manner in which it was asked put him on edge. And since Bart had appropriated his name along with his uniform, he could not answer truthfully without laying himself open to a further explanation than he proposed to make at that moment.

"As for that, where're you?" he snapped back.

"I'm Deputy Coroner Samuel Hardley." The speech was pompous; so was his turning back of a coat lapel to exhibit a nickel-plated badge of office. "I'm also deputy sheriff and represent the law of British Columbia in gold."

Seymour had suspected his interrogator's identity; was ready with his "Glad to meet you, chief."

"And I've got authority to make you answer my questions," piped the deputy. "Where you from and what's your business?"

"From the Caribou country by way of the Old Sun trail," Seymour answered truthfully enough. "There's my outfit." He jerked his thumb over his shoulder toward the pack horse which stood with prospector's equipment in broadside view. "That tells you what my business is."

"Be ready to prove it. What you know about this murder?"

The sergeant wished he knew just how the fuprow girl stood in this matter. Probably, for reasons of her own, she had gone on before any of the town party had arrived—possibly because she had heard them coming. If any of them had seen her, it seemed evident that she had not mentioned his participation in the discovery, or that he was boasting the bush on the case. Yet, after all her seeming frankness and her keen personal interest in the victim, why had she "slid out." Since he could not answer that mental query, he decided on reticence in answering the deputy's spoken one.

"I don't know anything about it," he replied with no appreciable delay, although without accenting the "know," as he should have done in strict truth.

"Queer yet should come ambling along with Seymour of the Royal Mounted lying in the road and not yet cold," grumbled Hardley. "Yes, sir-ee; it looks right queer to me. I think I'd better take you in on suspicion."

Seymour bore down on him with a most direct glance, the blue of his eyes almost black in their intensity—black as the ears of Kaw between which he was forced to look for exact focus. "And I think you'd better do nothing of the sort—on suspicion. I'm a Canadian citizen; I have and know my rights."

The sergeant, of course, was run-

FOR JOY OF GOOD HEALTH

Manitoba Woman Thanks Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Crandall, Manitoba.—"When I was a young girl at home and working I had terrible pains, almost more than I could bear, and I was not regular. These troubles kept me so tired all the time that I had no strength and no ambition to join in with my friends and have a good time. I was just tired and miserable always and life just seemed as if it wasn't worth living. I saw so much in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then I had a friend who had taken it and told me about it, so I got some. Every month after taking it I got stronger and I soon did not suffer every month. It stopped the pains and helped me other ways. Then when my babies were coming I was tired and worn out the first three months and ached badly. I took the Vegetable Compound right along and must say it made a new woman of me and able to do my work, and it helped me through confinement. You see I am a farmer's wife with a big house to look after, and three babies now. I have told ever so many women about your medicine. Just last week I got a letter from my old chum in the East. Her baby was born fifteen days before mine and she told me she was not feeling very well, her back aches so much, and that she is going to take the same medicine I took. You can use my letter and I hope some one will be helped by it."—Mrs. Jos. H. Kidd, Box 66, Crandall, Manitoba. C ning a sheer bluff. The provincial officer might have placed him under arrest; but to suffer detention was not in Seymour's program, for relief from it probably would require the disclosing of his identity at a time when he felt he could work more to advantage under cover. In the brief moment of their roadside controversy, he had "sized" his man and believed him one who would yield to a stronger will without other than ocular demonstration.

But he did not have time to prove his estimate of Hardley. Aid, or interference—whichever way one looked at it—came from an unexpected quarter.

"The stranger's right, Sam," spoke a handsome, blond-haired chap whose look of intelligence recommended him to Seymour as above average. "You haven't any call to arrest him just because he happened along a public trail at an unlucky moment. Far as that goes, you might better arrest yourself."

"What you driving at, Phil Brewster?" demanded Hardley, breaking away from the stranger's gaze and turning on his fellow townsman. "Are you hinting that I had any hand in sending West one of his majesty's officers?"

"You was jealous of him," put in an old man with a twisted face; the driver of the oxen, if one could judge from the goad upon which he leaned.

"And sore as a pup when you found he had been here a month without your suspicioning," contributed another townsman.

Evidently Hardley was not surrounded by any picked posse and was none too much respected as the peace officer of the community.

Relieved to be out of the calcium, at least for the moment, Seymour swung from his horse and crossed the road to look at the body of Bart, the natural move had he really been stranger to the tragedy.

The deputy chose to ignore the jibes of his neighbors. But he renewed his demands upon Brewster for an interpretation of his insinuations, reminding him he was no "bohunk freighter" to be talked to as an ox.

"Oh, I don't think for a minute that you kicked off the staff sergeant," the handsome chap began to explain. "The real Seymour, listening, came a creepy feeling at the use of his name in such a connection. 'I was just using you as an example to show your hasty methods with this stranger,' Brewster went on. 'You were sitting in your saddle and staring down at the remains when I rode up from the creek. But I didn't suspect you of firing the shot or even of knowing anything about it.'"

Hardley looked somewhat mollified. "But Sam was jealous," persisted the ox-driver.

"Stop your noise, Cato!" shrilled the deputy. "There was a perfectly good reason for my being first on the scene. I saw the sergeant ride past my shack all uniformed up and looking as if he meant business!"

"More'n you'd know how to look," goaded Cato, playfully prodding the deputy with one of his inordinately long arms.

"Want me to bash you up?" Hardley demanded, irritated; then went on with his explanation. "For reasons best known to himself and beyond my ken, now never to be disclosed to mortal understanding, Seymour hadn't been taking me into his confidence either before or after uncovering himself. It wasn't good police-manship on his part, I'll say, but I'm big enough of a man—"

Cato's crackling laughter interrupted. "Big enough, I'll say—but of a man?" he burst out. "Anyway, I figured I knew the breed of wolves up the creek better than he did and that he might need help. You know Sam Hardley's gun is always ready. So I saddled up old Loafer there and took out after him, prepared to lend a hand to law and order as was my sworn duty."

There was further exchange among the Goldites—theories regarding the new crime, gratuitous advice for the fat deputy, speculation regarding its effect on the outside reputation of the camp. Glad that interest had shifted from himself, Seymour listened subconsciously.

Suddenly his attention was claimed by a decoration which had not been on the uniform when he had at first scrutinized it. Into the breast opening of the serge coat was tucked a spray of snow flowers.

"Her last tribute," his thoughts whispered. "And an ill-considered one if she has any reason for not wanting her little world to know that she first discovered the crime."

It was unlikely that the impostor had been anywhere that morning where he could pluck flowers which Seymour knew to grow only in the deeper gulches where the packed snow of winter resisted the thaws of spring to the last. The wearing of the nose-gay was so out of keeping with the character that Bart had assumed as to attract attention. The sergeant wondered that the men arguing behind him had not already noticed and questioned his presence.

Kneeling ostensibly to tie a boot-lace, he rectified the girl's mistake by plucking forth the flowers and tucking them into an inside pocket of his coat. The others, although approaching, evidently had not noticed this deft appropriation. Ruth Duperow's connection with the tragedy was her secret unless later she wished to take the camp into her confidence.

"It's a cinch that these two killings are linked," Hardley was shrilling to all ears within range. "When I get the man that killed the sergeant, I'll have the man that shot the B. C. X. driver; and, vice versa, if I get the man that killed the stage driver, I'll have the one that shot the sergeant."

"Which one do you calculate to get first, Sam?" asked Brewster, straight-faced as an undertaker.

The pudgy deputy stared at him in momentary suspicion, then took the bait. "Cato the Ox might be excused a fool question like that, Phil, but I'd have thought you'd be wise to vice versa. Don't you see, man, that these murderers are one and the same?"

Then I'd advise you to throw down on that one and the same quick as the Almighty will let you," said Brewster. "The Mounties will be riled to the core over the killing of one of their own; they'll swarm in here like flies as soon as the news gets out."

The mining camp's deputy coroner was obviously disturbed by this logical counsel. Although the morning was not warm, he whipped out a saffron-colored handkerchief and mopped his brow. Evidently that ministrations did not satisfy for he took off his hat and polished his pate, which was disclosed to be as bald as an eagle's.

"Spite your astonishing ignorance in some things, Phil, you sometimes show a glimmer of sense," he said at last. "I was headed right in the first place. I've got to make some arrests and have the victims ready for the Mounties when they come swarming."

His eyes, while delivering himself of this pronouncement, had fixed on the sergeant.

"Victims—you said it," offered Seymour in calculating defense. "Some arrests. I suppose you'll make a bunch of them. Well, start in with me and bring in lots of company. You might as well make the mounted police plumb disgusted with you while you're about it." For a moment he watched Hardley squirm under this obvious scorn, then added: "Isn't a coroner's inquest the first of orderly procedure in a case of this sort? If you get a verdict from a jury, you'll have something to stand on when—the Mounties come."

Hardley embraced the offering found in Seymour's sudden change from scorn to a practical suggestion. "I'll have an inquest with all due respect to the law, just as soon as we can get the late staff-sergeant into town," he shrilled. "See that you stick around, stranger. There's no telling at who the corner's jur. will point the finger of guilt."

Seymour nodded agreement. From official experience, he knew that there was no telling.

CHAPTER XVI

The "Widdy" in Gray

In the slipshod procedure of Deputy Sam Hardley the professional policeman had an illustration of why the force of which he was a member was needed to supplement some county peace officers of the Dominion. Although the fat official undoubtedly believed a commissioned officer of the mounted police had been murdered in cold blood while in the pursuit of duty, his handling of the case proved most perfunctory. There was no close study of the immediate surroundings; not even a beating of the bush to determine the point from which the fatal shot was fired.

The fact that the victim's revolver had been fired once was noted, not by Hardley, but by the citizen addressed as Phil Brewster who, it developed, operated a freight packing business between Gold and the creeks. Doubtless, the tragedy of the express driver had been handled with similar carelessness, and this unlucky Bart Caswell given every opportunity to launch his daring impersonation.

About all that Hardley did was go through the pockets of the uniform while one of the crowd made a list of contents as they were produced and placed in a large handkerchief. There was a wallet meagerly supplied with small bills, a pocket knife, a ring of keys, and a briar pipe—not any of which were familiar to Seymour. But there was in addition a certified copy of his own commission as staff-sergeant of the R.C.M.P., which had been in the war bag and a sheaf of official blanks. These proceeds of the search were knotted within the handkerchief and deposited in Hardley's pocket, presumably to be handed over to the Mounted.

Soon, the waiting freight wagon was impressed into service as a rude catafalque. With the horsemen in procession formed behind, the cortege headed for the near-by camp. Its pace, at least, was funeral, thanks to oxen deliberation.

Boy Scouts Good Citizens

Are Trained to Think of Others Before Themselves

The Boy Scout is no longer regarded as a soldier in embryo. He is known as the best type of the young citizen, who is trained to think of others as well as of himself, and is ready at all times to do a good turn, not for reward, but for the joy of doing it. In these days of perverted union, when combination has as its mainspring the avarice of self-seekers, the altruistic motives of the Boy Scouts constitute one of the most hopeful features of the time, carrying with it the hope of a less selfish generation to come.—The Scotsman.

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little one she would use nothing else. The Tablets give such results that the mother has nothing but words of praise and thankfulness for them. Among the thousands of mothers throughout Canada who praise the Tablets is Mrs. David A. Anderson, New Glasgow, N.S., who writes:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and from my experience I would not be without them. I would urge every other mother to keep a box of the Tablets in the house." The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach; drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The misspents of every minute are a new record against us in heaven. Sure, if we thought thus, we should dismiss them with better reports, and not suffer them to fly away empty, or laden with dangerous intelligence. How happy is it when they carry up not only the message, but the fruits of good, and stay with the Ancient of Days to speak for us before His glorious throne.

The Value Of "Publicity"

Retail Dealers Cannot Afford to Neglect Their Advertising

In a small town on the American Middle West—region where the "mail order" system of shopping has a tremendous vogue—a good story was recently told at the expense of the local storekeeper. When he came home one night his wife proudly showed him an unusual type of egg-beater she had just bought from one of the mail order firms. There appeared at once on his face a look of surprise, instead of the pleasure she had expected to find. She asked him what the trouble was.

"Well," he replied, "I've had half a dozen of these things in stock for a year, and I've been wondering how on earth I was ever going to get rid of them." The incident is being used in the press to illustrate the value of "publicity." If, it is argued, a retail trader keeps his stock of household appliances secret even to his own wife, how can he expect to find customers for them?—London Daily Mail.

Here and There

Comparative figures on the hydro power installed in the United States and Canada show that the latter is far in the lead in respect of horsepower installed per 1,000 of population. The United States has 10,455,000 h.p. of installed water power against Canada's water power installations of 3,227,414 h.p. The horsepower per 1,000 of population in the United States is 95, but in Canada it is 350.

A steady increase in the volume of wheat exports from Canada is noted in the monthly statement issued by the Bureau of Statistics. In April, 1924, 6,086,465 bushels in all were exported, as against 5,143,304 in April, 1923. Included in these figures are 32,805 bushels sent to the United States, 2,972,469 to the United Kingdom and 3,080,191 to other countries.

Public Life In Canada

Of all the activities in which men and women may engage, the rendering of service to one's fellowmen and country is surely the highest. Every citizen can, and should, render such service no matter how humble their station, but the higher the position and the greater the responsibility the more important it becomes that the services of the best men and women, those with experience and special qualifications for the discharge of the duties involved, be secured.

Devotion of one's life, talents and energies in public service to the country involves, in almost every instance, personal sacrifice. A man possessing the temperament and qualifications of a successful organizer and administrator can attain just as high honor in the estimation of his fellowmen, and reap far larger financial rewards, in private life and the business world than he can in public life and service. Most men occupying high office in public life in Canada today could easily command much larger salaries in professional and commercial life, and scores of others hesitate to enter public life because of the great personal and financial sacrifices which such a step would involve.

Yet it is of the utmost importance that Canada in its Federal Parliament, Government and Civil Service, and in its several Provinces, should obtain the benefit of the services of its most outstanding and best qualified citizens. The problems involved in framing legislation and in wise, economical and far-sighted administration call for their services.

Why is it that so many men of outstanding ability decline to enter public life, and why do so many men well qualified to fill responsible positions in the public service refuse to do so? There are various reasons, but among the outstanding ones two or three may be cited.

In private life such men are largely their own masters. They can develop their own initiative, carry out their own plans, reap the rewards of their own successes, and are not subject to red tape, the interference of contending political and sectional interests, and constant petty criticism by political opponents, the press, and the public generally. To a high-spirited man of good intentions such freedom of action is precious. In private life he can and does get results; in public service his best efforts are all too frequently nullified and the success of his work placed in jeopardy.

In private life such men can command salaries commensurate with their abilities, services rendered and results achieved. But if a Government proposed to pay such men salaries of equal size to devote their abilities and energies in the public service, a hue and cry would be heard from one end of the country to the other, and these men would have their names and every act bandied about from mouth to mouth and in the press. Such men do not have to put up with these things and therefore fight shy of accepting public positions, and their valuable services are lost to the country and the positions filled with less able and qualified men, with the result that the country suffers. This is the reason why so many enterprises succeed under private management and fail under public ownership and management.

A third reason which applies more particularly to members of Parliament, Legislatures and Governments is the belittling of these men and their efforts and holding them up before the public as objects of ridicule. For example, there are certain members of the Press Gallery at Ottawa writing special articles for magazines and well-known papers whose sole business it seems to be to poke fun at and belittle the people's representatives in the House of Commons. Admittedly these writers have a splendid command of language, they know how to use adjectives and write in a snappy and altogether interesting manner. Their articles are readable and are widely read and discussed. But they are wholly destructive in character. There is nothing constructive about them, and if people, in addition to reading them, accept them at face value, the only conclusion that can be reached is that the leaders in the Government and of the Opposition are either a lot of ninnyes and fawn-petents or buffoons. Seldom is any member credited with sincerity or patriotic motives. If certain action is taken which meets these writers' approval, then some selfish and ulterior motive is credited with having been the inspiration of such action. The last thing these writers are willing to credit to the leaders in Canadian public life is a sincere desire to render public service.

Criticism of men in public life there must, and should be; it is desirable and healthy. But it should be fair. A man giving his life in public service welcomes fair, constructive criticism, but the style of articles which seem to find favor with the public today are unquestionably a deterrent to many good men who would otherwise gladly give their services, even at a sacrifice, in the public life of Canada.

As a first essential to raising the standard of public life and service in Canada there must be a change in the viewpoint of the average citizen towards those men and women who are devoting their lives in the work of the country.

Western Grown Corn

Is Better Than Corn Coming From Illinois Grain Men Claimed

According to press dispatches from Vancouver, B.C., samples of Canadian corn were in the hands of some of the grain exporters there recently, not as a line for foreign shipment, but to show what Canadian prairie corn is like. According to the grain experts it is even better than that coming into this country from Illinois. When United States corn gets too high for this market, the practice has been to balance the trade by importing it from Manchuria, but local grain men stated recently that if the area of Canadian fields in corn continues to expand annually as it has done in the past ten years there will be little necessity in a few years for Canada to go outside for corn. In 1923 the three western prairie provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba produced corn crops amounting to 781,000 tons valued at $3,500,000.

Irrigation Increases Yields

In the first year of the operation of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation District some 20,000 acres have been under irrigation. In individual cases certain farmers irrigated as much as 200 acres. They are still 75,000 acres available for irrigation in this district.

Irrigation in certain sections of Alberta has been practiced for many years and is found to increase the average production of grain crops and to be very helpful in the production of alfalfa, corn, sunflowers, roots and vegetables.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.

At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

One never realizes how ignorant some of our leading citizens are until they are hauled up before an investigating committee.

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm Powders, by destroying the worms, correct these faults of the digestion and serve to restore the organs to healthy action.

Grooms Younger Than Brides

Statistics just completed in Switzerland show that the bridegrooms, on an average, are younger than the brides. The study covers many thousands of cases, in 8,400 cases the bridegrooms being ten years and in 2,552 cases sixteen years younger than the girls they married. Several cases were reported of boys 25 to 30 marrying women 75 to 80 years old.

Broadcasting Motion Pictures

Test So Successful That Invention Is To Be Perfected

Experiments demonstrating the practicability of broadcasting motion pictures by wireless were disclosed at the Mark Strand Hotel, New York, by W. H. Marshall, Secretary of Colonel E. H. R. Green, of South Dartmouth, Mass.

Colonel Green, the son of Hettie Green, is a multimillionaire and the world's foremost amateur radio fan. He has been conducting the experiments for eighteen months in specially built laboratories on his estate near Buzzard's Bay.

President Samuel W. Stratton, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology attended a test at which a motion picture was transmitted sixty feet by wireless. He was so impressed that he detailed two experts from the Institute staff to assist Colonel Green in the perfection of the invention.

Marshall said Colonel Green had established the practicability of the device for sending short distances and was confident that in another year he would have a set suitable for general broadcasting of movies even as music is broadcasted now.

The basis of the apparatus, he said, is similar to the device for transmitting still pictures through the air.

Life is queer. There was all kinds of parking space when nobody had anything to park.

Winter wheat on dry land at the experimental farm at Lethbridge yielded 35 bushels per acre. One favored field went 45 bushels.

RICH, PURE BLOOD

RESISTS DISEASE

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Make Rich Blood and Restore Health

Thin, pale people lack the power of resistance to disease that rich, red blood gives. Nervous breakdown is the direct result of thin blood. So is anaemia, indigestion, rheumatism and many other troubles. People suffering from thin, impure blood need just the help Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can give. For thirty-five years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been world-famous as a blood builder and nerve restorer. Not only do they purify and enrich the blood, but they make new, rich, red blood which imparts fresh vigor and life to all the organs of the body. Their first effect is usually to stimulate the appetite; then the spirits revive, and restlessness at night gives way to health restoring sleep. For sufferers from anaemia, nervousness, general weakness, digestive troubles, the after effects of acute diseases, mental or physical exhaustion, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a restorative of the utmost value. If you are weak or ailing give these pills a fair trial and the result is sure to be beneficial.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUGGEST USE OF BRITISH FLEET TO PRESERVE PEACE

Geneva.—The provisions of a protocol for outlawing war already approved by the French and British representatives at the assembly of the League of Nations was presented by Foreign Minister Beres, Czechoslovakia, to the disarmament committee of the League, and delegates of 12 governments gave preliminary approval to several articles. The proposed pact advances the cause of arbitration, is likely to produce a sense of security among the nations, and prepares the way for disarmament.

Article seven of the protocol obligates the signatories to assist any attacked state and to insure the safety of land and sea communication. The French considers this clause enables the operation of the British fleet any time the League needs to preserve peace, and that Great Britain would go to the extent of contributing aerial and expeditionary forces should the situation warrant.

The draft protocol created a profound impression among delegates. Those who have had an opportunity of studying it, even if they do not immediately accept all provisions as they stand, have no hesitation in characterizing the document as a compilation designed perhaps to change world history and direct its course into paths leading to peace.

The sub-committee of disarmament of the assembly adopted a resolution requesting the assembly to consider the advisability of inviting the United States Government to send a representative to collaborate with the League's permanent disarmament commission in framing a draft convention for control of the private manufacture of arms. This draft would serve as basis later for an international conference.

An Industrial Army

Veterans Advocate Army To Be Composed Of The Unemployed

Winnipeg, Man.—Formation of an industrial army with compulsory enlistment for able single men seeking unemployment relief and optional for married men, for carrying on work such as roadbuilding, clearing brush, was advocated by a resolution by the Army and Navy Veterans' Association members in convention here. It was considered this was the solution to the problem of unemployment of former service men. The army would be under the direction of competent officers and unemployed refusing work in it become liable under the Vagrancy Act, it was suggested.

The convention protested against "promiscuous immigration," and advocated for bringing from Great Britain only such settlers as actually are required in the various provinces.

Alberta Natural Resources

Edmonton.—Alberta's natural resources will be up for discussion again some time during the coming fall. Premier Greenfield wired Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King about it and several conferences now pending, and has received a reply to the effect that it will be impossible to arrange dates until after Mr. King's return from the tour through the west.

U.S. Retains Polo Trophy

Westbury.—United States retained the International Challenge Cup, representative of polo supremacy, when the American team decisively defeated a British formation 14-5 in the second game of a three-game series. United States scored a 16-5 victory in the first game.

Blame Turks For War

Trouble Brewing In Mohammedan World For Soviet Army

Tehran.—The strong revolutionary movement in the Caucasus has proved to be the long hard work of Pan-Turk emissaries from Angora among the Ajars, the Mohammedan Georgians in the Batum district, and the large Mohammedan Tartar races of the Caucasus, it is reported here. Annexation of the Caucasus, the majority of population of which is Tartar, is the age-old dream of Turkey and many Christians, who are discontented with the present Russian regime, are helping the movement. Repeated interruptions of the telegraph lines in the Caucasus is a sign that disorders continue. Red troops barbarities are not reported yet, but as the movement is extending to the trans-Caucasus, undoubtedly the strongest measures will be taken soon, to prevent the movement extending to Turkestan, where such movements have been pretty frequent since the Soviet regime was established. There are strong signs of the existing trouble in the Mohammedan world growing greatly in the coming months.

Approves Construction Of Wireless Stations

Australia Will Have Three, One Communicating With Canada Direct

Sydney.—The Federal Parliament has approved the construction of a beam wireless station in Australia. The Amalgamated Wireless Company, in which the Commonwealth Government has a half interest, will now proceed with the erection of three stations, one communicating with Canada, and two with England in different directions.

The cost of the three stations will not exceed £120,000 (about $600,000), one-fourth the cost of the high power station previously proposed. These stations guarantee to include a 50 per cent. increased capacity over the high power station. It is expected the new stations will be working in six or eight months.

World's Wheat Crop Short

Many European Countries Will Have To Import Grain

Ottawa.—A world reduction in the supply of wheat of 371,000,000 bushels as compared with last year is estimated in a report received from the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, Italy.

Great Britain, Scandinavia, Germany, France and Italy will be the chief importers of wheat. Drought and rains have caused great losses in the crops of Europe.

Vancouver Enlarges Elevator Space

Vancouver.—The port of Vancouver this season will be equipped to handle 150,000,000 bushels of wheat. Last crop year it took care of 55,000,000 bushels with only one elevator, the Harbor Commissioners building No. 1 with a storage capacity of only 2,000,000 bushels. Since then grain handling and storage facilities have been trebled. The present storage capacity of 2,000,000 bushels, by January next, will be increased to 6,450,000 bushels.

Abolish Convict Settlement

Paris.—France's convict settlement in French Guinea is to be abolished says the Petit Parisien, largely in consequence of that newspaper's exposures last year of the alleged moral and physical brutalities "of another age" practiced there. The newspaper asserts that the prisoners will be brought from "tropical misery" to a central penitentiary in France which is yet to be established.

Flood Victims In Japan

Tokio.—Floods, following a heavy typhoon, have inundated many parts of Japan. The death list may reach 100 and forty thousand houses in Tokio alone are partially flooded. Three hundred persons are reported missing in one village. Landslides, following the floods, killed several persons in Chiba prefecture.

Subsidy For Maritime Coal

Coal Famine Threatens

Mine Workers Of Alberta Appeal For Funds To Carry On Strike

Winnipeg.—An appeal from the United Mine Workers' of America, District 18, Alberta, for loans to carry on the fight against wage reduction, was read at the meeting of the Winnipeg Trades and Labor Council here. A committee was appointed to raise funds for the striking miners.

Meanwhile, the Board of Trade has not yet been able to secure any satisfactory information from Calgary, Edmonton or Lethbridge, as to when the supplies of coal from the soft mines of Alberta will flow towards Winnipeg. Residents of the city who have interests in western mines say that the only hope of the mines starting up again is to have adequate protection for the men who are willing to go into the mines and work for the wage offered by the operators. Hundreds are willing to work, but are afraid to go in.

In the meantime many cars of soft coal are coming in from the United States, and the United States mine operators of this class of coal, who have been practically shut out of Western Canada for the past two years, are evidently again to be the main source of supply for the west this winter.

Livestock For Orient

Japan Buys High-Grade Cattle From Alberta Farms

Vancouver.—When the Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamer, Canadian Spinner, sails from this port for the Orient on September 27, she will have on board sixty head of high-grade cattle from farms in Alberta. Recently, officials of the Alberta Government toured Japan interesting the cattle men of the island in pure-bred stock. The result of the visit is that regular shipments of cattle will be made from Alberta to Japan about every six weeks or two months until next summer.

War In China Spreads

Shanghai.—Renewed evidences of the spread of China's sectional civil war to the Manchurian-Chihli front were contained in Peking reports telling of the battle at Chao Yang, where the forces of General Chang Tao Lin, Manchurian war lord, are said to have clashed with those of General Wu Pei Fu, the military head of the Peking Government.

Heads Railway Board

Chief Justice McKeown Appointed Chairman of Board of Railway Commissioners

Ottawa.—Chief Justice H. A. McKeown, of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, has been appointed chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada, succeeding the late Hon. Frank B. Carvell, who was also a New Brunswicker.

Judge McKeown came into prominence recently by his serving as a Royal Commissioner investigating the collapse of the Home Bank of Canada at the behest of the Dominion Government.

The new chief of the Railway Commission was born at St. Stephen, N.B., on November 28, 1863. He is a graduate of Mt. Allison University and also of Victoria University, Toronto. He practised law in St. John for a number of years and also served as a member of the New Brunswick Government as Attorney-General. In religion, he is, like the late Mr. Carvell, a Methodist.

Wireless Men Not In Danger

View Held That Operators At Herschel Island Are Well Supplied With Provisions

Edmonton.—There is no danger whatever of anything serious happening to Lieut. Young and his crew of three wireless men now at Herschel Island, stated Superintendent Ritchie, of the Edmonton division of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, when asked as to whether it would be necessary for these men to supplement their food stocks by hunting because the supplies intended for them were aboard the Hudson's Bay Company's steamer "Lady Kindersley," abandoned in the ice off Point Barrow.

The R.C.M.P. station at Herschel is supplied with provisions that will last until open water next year and the addition of four extra men will impose no particular drain on their resources.

Unveil Monument To Canadian Dead

Men Who Gave Lives In South African War Honored

Toronto.—A monument erected at Bloemfontein by the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire to Canadians who died in the South African war, was unveiled by the Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of South Africa, in the presence of General J. B. Hertzog, Premier, and many Canadians now resident in Bloemfontein, according to a cable received here. The monument of grey granite, 20 feet high, was made in Toronto and shipped to South Africa.

The names of ninety Canadian soldiers and engagements in which they gave their lives is inscribed.

Aerial Warfare.

Transportation of Armies Overseas to End in "Next War"

Philadelphia.—New developments in aerial warfare that will render methods of strategy obsolete were described by Government experts before a gathering of scientists here in honor of the centenary of the Franklin Institute.

The end of transportation of great armies overseas, bombing of cities by unmanned automatically operated airplanes, a new aerial camera that nullifies camouflage, wiping out of a battleship with a single air bomb, and possible paralyzing of an entire nation by a combination of new chemical discoveries, were among the new weapons of war discussed.

To Float New Loan

Ottawa.—The Minister of Finance plans to float immediately a loan of $80,000,000 in New York to cover the short term indebtedness of the Government. The issue precedes a long term loan to be floated in Canada for $107,000,000 to redeem issues of Victory bonds now falling due for repayment this year.

Ban On Games of Chance

Port Arthur, Ont.—Acting on instructions from the Attorney-General, the Provincial Police are taking steps to close down all games of chance. The first affected here are two church organizations which had sent automobiles into the streets with banners advertising them for raffle. The banners were removed by the police.

REBELLION HAS NOW SPREAD TO EASTERN RUSSIA

Berlin.—The revolutionary wave spreading from the Caucasus into Eastern Russia has reached the Crimea, according to Constantinople reports received here. Renewed disturbances in Odessa, Sebastopol and other points in the Crimea are reported. The food shortage, coupled with the grain export from Odessa, is infuriating the people. The population of Sebastopol demanded rations, which the Government refused. Mobs thereupon stormed the co-operative societies and reserve storehouse. Soldiers repulsed the rioters and are now garrisoning the town. About 5,000,000 bushels of wheat were exported in July and August.

Constantinople.—The revolutionists are dynamiting the oil wells of Baku, including some concessions belonging to the International Barnsdell Corporation just abandoned. The Turkish Government has issued an extraordinary order forbidding anyone to proceed to Angora or the frontier zone without official permission on account of Turkish military movements in connection with the revolution.

At the towns of Kutais the revolutionists have established a provisional government of Georgia and have abolished the Soviet decrees establishing low fixed prices at which the peasants must deliver all their grain to the government and are forbidden to import foreign manufactured goods. All restrictions on private trade have been removed.

Success of the revolution, however, is extremely doubtful. The two rich provinces, particularly the Baku oil fields, are so essential to the life of Russia that Moscow is exerting the utmost strength to crush the revolution. The Caucasians cannot expect help elsewhere.

Appointed Chief Justice

Hon. Francis Alexander Anglin of the Supreme Court Receives Appointment

Ottawa.—The appointment of Hon. Francis Alexander Anglin, puisne judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, to the position of Chief Justice of Canada, is announced. Chief Justice Anglin succeeds the late Hon. Sir Louis Davies. At the same time it was announced that Edwin L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, and Thibadeau, Rinfret, of the Superior Court of Montreal had been appointed judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, and that Judge Malouin, appointed about a year ago had retired.

Chief Justice Anglin was born in St. John, N.B., in 1865, a son of Hon. T. W. Anglin, former Speaker of the House of Commons. He was called to the bar in 1888, created King's Counsel in 1902 and was appointed puisne judge of the High Court of Ontario in 1904. His appointment to the Supreme Court of Canada was made in 1909.

Man Drops Dead at Cremona

Dr. Clarke and Const. Jarman, A. P. P., were called out west on Monday morning to investigate the death of a man by the name of Mr. Joseph Wands. Mr. Wands was a man of 74 years of age and has homesteaded west of the Silver Creek Coal mines for the last eight years. At the time of his death he was visiting at the home of Mr. Sirt, near the Atkins school and passed away while sitting in a chair on Sunday night, from heart failure. The coroner, Dr. Clarke, decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

DELIGHTFUL COMEDY
Social standing based on money is humorously attacked in "Painted People," Colleen Moore's current starring first National picture, showing at the Opera House next week. Every town has two sets, and the laughable efforts of one to break into the other is the theme of this delightful comedy-drama.

Special Rally Day services will be held in Zion Evangelical church on Sunday, September 28th. At 10.30 a. m. Sunday School Rally. 7.30 p. m. Young People's Rally. Everybody cordially invited to these services.

Don't forget that the Mayfair Itinerant Picture Show will be showing "Penrod and Sam," a Booth Tarkington story at Har-mattan Hall on Friday, October 10th. Dance following show.

The Rev. H. Clay will hold Harvest Festival Services in the Church of England on Sunday, October 5th, at 3 p. m. Also on Thursday evening, October 9th, at 7.30 p. m. when the Rev. Clay of Wrenna will be the preacher. Mrs. Wilkinson will render a solo. Everybody welcome. 2c39

THE ONLY WAY

A man tells of a printer who started poor twenty years ago and has just retired with a comfortable fortune of $50,000. This money was acquired through industry, economy, conscientious efforts to give full value, indomitable perseverance, and the death of an uncle who left him $49,999.75.—Ex

A COURTEOUS COMEBACK

Mrs. Cobb—"Was the grocer's boy impudent to you again when you telephoned your order this morning?"

Maid—"Yes, Mrs. Cobb, he was that; but I fixed him this time. I sez, 'Who the h—l do you think you're talkin' to? This is Mrs. Cobb at the phone talking.'"—Ex.

MORE ALBERTA BEEF FOR JAPAN

Following the successful establishment of a market for Alberta beef cattle in Japan, by the Department of Agriculture this spring, another shipment, this time of 58 head, is going forward under the auspices of the Department shortly. Other shipments have been made by private firms lately. The animals for the latest shipment average 1200 lbs. and were bought on the Edmonton Stock Yards. The cattle are being purchased by a Tokio firm and will be shipped under the reduced rates arranged recently and which make it possible for cattle to be shipped to Japan profitably.

PAY ON VANCOUVER BASIS

For the first time since the western route via Vancouver became operative for Alberta wheat shipments, farmers are to receive this year a price based on the Vancouver basis, instead of the Fort William basis, which has been the basis of payment for years. The wheat pool officials have announced that the initial payment this season will be $1.00 a bushel on the Vancouver basis, which means that the farmers will gain the advantage of the lesser freight charge.

COLLEEN MOORE IN "PAINTED PEOPLE"

Can a girl play baseball successfully? Colleen Moore answers the question at the Didsbury Opera House, where in "Painted people" she demonstrates that she can play the national game well enough to hold her own as a catcher of a champion sand-lot team. It is Colleen Moore's latest First National picture.
